NON-ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT

Research Associate, Policy Development, Insurance Bureau of Canada, Toronto, 2003-2004

- Responsible for the development of an economic impact study regarding the possible introduction of government-run automobile insurance in the province of New Brunswick. The study was presented to the Select Committee on Public Automobile Insurance, created by former New Brunswick Premier Bernard Lord, and chaired by former MLA (Member of the Legislative Assembly) Elizabeth Weir. The government eventually adopted the key recommendations from the study.
